History of the School.

O^N 21st April, 1879, the old building, of what now constitutes the Thebarton Central School, was opened by Mr. R. T. Burnard, who had previously conducted a school in a building purchased by him from the Weslevan Methodists, and which still stands in Chapel Street. One of his assistants was his sister, now Mrs. W. A. West, whose late husband subsequently became Chief Inspector of Schools. At the opening day two hundred and fifty scholars presented themselves for enrolment, and the numbers grew until the original building, consisting of two large and two small classrooms, became too small to accommodate the scholars. many of whom came from the city on the east and the Reedbeds on the west. Where the Corporation Offices and the Institute stand to-day there was a hole which, in wet weather, received the drainage of the neighbourhood, and this held a peculiar fasincation for many of the boys, and through which they fell into conflict with their teachers.

R. T. BURNARD (1879-1881).

Behind this was the racecourse, another source of attraction for the schoolboys. Still further west was Hardy's vineyard, where, in the grape season, many boys found employment. To the east of the school was a wheat paddock, and where the Bakewell Bridge now stands was a cattle market. To the south lay some cow paddocks, and the milkman distributed milk in the city and sparsely populated suburbs adjoining. To the north, and close to the River Torrens, was the home of Colonel Light, demolished some short time ago, but the spot is marked by a plate provided by the Thebarton Corporation. Homes were by no means numerous, and they differed very greatly from the homes to be seen surrounding the school today, showing the progress that has been made in the fifty years the school has been in operation. Instead of two hundred and fifty pupils there are now in attendance seventeen hundred children.

In the corridor of the old building there may be found to-day a copy of an address presented to Mr. Thomas Hardy, who later on built the Tintara Always Ask for Cellars near the Bakewell Bridge of to-day. For many years Mr. Hardy was Chairman of the School Board of Advice, and in that capacity did, with his colleagues, yeoman service. The signatories to the address embrace many names well-known to the present-day burgesses of Thebarton and Mile End.

The School Boards of Advice were superseded some years ago by School Committees, which are elected by the parents of the children attending the school. Every school has its own School Committee, instead of a Board, embracing many schools. Thus activities are strictly localised, and efforts concentrated on a particular centre. Much valuable work has been done, and is still being done, by men and women whose sole reward is the consciousness of doing something for the pupils, and assisting the teachers to accomplish their ideals as regards the children.

Again reverting to Mr. Burnard, it may be mentioned that after two happy years at Thebarton he was transferred to Unley, where, after wanderings in various parts of the State, he retired from the teaching service about ten years ago. Mr. Burnard has been President of the Teachers' Union and a member of the Decoration Society. He is now Secretary of the School Committee at Unley, which is also about to celebrate its jubilee. His happy experiences at Thebarton have followed him throughout. The eldest son of Mr. Burnard's family was born in the schoolhouse to the east of the school, which subsequently was turned into classrooms, and later still into the present Domestic Economy Centre, now a distinguishing part of the Central School activities on the girls' side.

MR. BURNARD'S successor was the late Mr. Charles J. Webb, who conducted the school for ten years. During that period the numbers continued to grow, and at length an infant room and two more classrooms were added. The drainage of the school ground has always been difficult, and early in its history the portions near the building were asphalted. It may be stated here that the present School Committee secured enlarged photographs of the masters who had presided over the school. These hang in the headmaster's office, and parents entering the office frequently exclaim when they see the portrait of their old teachers. Just about Mr. Webb's time a Decoration Society was formed amongst the schools in the metropolitan and suburban area, of which Thebarton was one. In the main corridor of the old building is still to be seen a photograph of the boys in kilts who gave a special item, and received an encore for it, of which the teacher boasts to-day. About this time, too, an effort was made to introduce arboriculture, and an old scholar has testified that pupils brought pennies to purchase trees, many of which adorn the grounds to-day.

MR. WEBB was succeeded by the late Mr. James Cater, who had charge for eight years. He was known as a humorist and an elocutionist, and left his mark upon the school.

FOLLOWING him came Mr. William Bennett, who has just retired from the position of Headmaster of the Norwood Central School, the largest school in the State, and Thebarton is a good second. As a matter of fact, the Girls' and Infants' Departments are larger at Thebarton than at Norwood. During Mr. Bennett's time the brick building at the rear of the school ground was built. It consists of three long rooms, and an entrance chamber, and still the numbers mounted. Mr. Bennett later on passed successively to Port Adelaide, Hindmarsh, and Norwood. He has three times been President of the Teachers' Union, Secretary and Manager of the Decoration Society for many years, teachers' representative on the Classification Board from its inception thirteen years ago, and Chairman of the Teachers' Superannuation Board. In these various offices he has rendered splendid service to his fellowteachers, and gave that service freely and ungrudingly.

MR. BENNETT'S successor was found in the late Major Donnell, who was transferred from North Adelaide, where he had done vigorous work. He also held office as President of the Teachers' Union, and was a member of the Executive of the Decoration Society, which has done so much to beautify the interior of our school buildings. To-day the Society provides, according to its funds, musical instruments, library books, pictures, cupboards, and magazines. The inauguration of the Society was the happy inspiration of the late Mr. I. A. Hartley, B.A., B.Sc., who came to an untimely end when in the zenith of his organising powers. During Major Donnell's time further additions were made to the building, in the form of asbestos and pavilion rooms, which later on were found to be insufficient to satisfy the requirements of the still vigorously growing school. Major Donnell died in harness. His was an outstanding personality until the disease, which carried him off, attacked him.

JOHN DONNELL (1908-1917).

HIS successor came from Goodwood in the person of Mr. F. F. Wholohan. Cultured and gentlemanly he left on his retirement, on reaching the statutory age, a very pleasant memory. During his time it became necessary to secure outside accommodation, and Sunday Schools were engaged. These buildings were by no means adapted for the purpose, but they were a necessity.

During the war, when patriotic efforts were being made on all sides, the Thebarton School and district were well organised, and very splendid results were obtained. The school took part in a monster demonstration on the Adelaide Oval, after which, as the results of school efforts, a cheque for £17,000 was handed to Lady Galway. Though there is no honor roll or record available in the school, yet those at the Town Hall show a very large number of active participants, many of whom paid the complete sacrifice. ciation, was very instrumental in the Thebarton School occupying such a prominent position. Many of the scholars wore "medals" won for having earned and presented certain stated sums to the Children's Patriotic Fund. When many years have passed these medals, and the memories they carry, will be a great gratification to those who gained them.

THE late Mr. John Moyes came from Port Adelaide to take charge. His fame had preceded him. He, too, had been President of the Teachers'

Union twice, and, wherever he had been stationed, he left behind him a record of which any man could be reasonably proud. Testimony of his efficiency and kindliness of spirit is still being borne by the parents, and, despite illness and advancing years, he had the heart of a boy. His demise was, and is, sincerely mourned by teachers, parents, and scholars. During his reign the Director of Education, after a visit to Britain and Europe, made first-class schools in the suburban area Central Schools. Already in this neighbourhood was a Junior Technical High School, but, notwithstanding this, Thebarton was made a commercial centre, where the senior boys were taught, in addition to ordinary subjects, book-keeping, shorthand, typewriting, business correspondence, and commercial art. At the same time Girls' Departments were created and placed under the care of Head Mistresses. The Girls' Department at Thebarton was placed under the capable management of Miss Healy. In this department are taught housewifery in all its branches—dressmaking, millinery, typewriting, shorthand, and general literature.

Exhibitions of the work executed by the girls have shown enthusiasm of pupils and teachers, and gained much admiration. In addition, the girls have won prizes in singing, elecution, dramatic art, and rhythm against girls from the other Central Schools. Two girls in Grade VII have won the £50 prize (presented by the Independent Order of Rechabites), and also three exhibitions (presented by the Education Department), for taking a prominent place in the Qualifying Certificate Examinations. One girl from the school was, in 1928, top of the State with 98 per centage of marks, and one boy won a scholarship with 94 per centage.

Infant School.—In 1924 the Infant School was built. In this department the attendance has outgrown the accommodation provided. Miss Hamence is the enthusiastic Infant Mistress, and she is assisted by an equally enthusiastic staff. In 1920 the Public Works Department removed the dividing fence at the school lane and closed the land definitely, thus doing away with a right-of-way between the front and rear buildings—a constant source of danger to the children. The Thebarton Corporation has made a roadway from Rose Street, called School Lane, at the eastern end of the school property, to provide an outlet at that end.

Mothers' Club. This was inaugurated by Miss Inspector Longmore in 1923. This club has been highly appreciated by the Infant Mistress and staff. It has placed many valuable aids in the infant department and no trouble seems to be too great for the ladies forming the club to take for the children's benefit. The President is Miss Hamence, the Secretary, Mrs. Mason, and the Treasurer, Mrs. Pilcher. The club is providing the timber for a shelter shed, and the Education Department will provide the labour.

A Welfare Club and Old Scholars' Association was formed within the past twelve months at the instigation of the School Committee to extend its usefulness and secure the active co-operation of the parents of the children in the Boys' and Girls' Departments, and to bring about a closer union between parents and teachers. Mr. H. T. Christophers is President, Mrs. Clyde Secretary, and Mr. Measday Treasurer.

THE late Mr. Moyes was succeeded by the present headmaster, Mr. G. S. Berriman, who came from Hindmarsh. He has been President of the Teachers' Union and is Secretary of the Decoration Society. During his term of office as Secretary the number of concerts given by the Society has been increased from three to four each year.

In 1928 the beautiful capacious two-storey building erected for the Girls' Department was opened by the Minister of Education, the Hon. M. McIntosh, M.P., who, as a souvenir of the occasion, was presented with a golden key by the School Committee.

The School Committee has for the past two years given three prizes (books) to each grade in the school, thirty-three grades in all. These have been greatly appreciated. It has also presented a kodascope for teaching purposes and a piano, assisted by a subsidy from the Education Department.

G. S. BERRIMAN (1927).

THE DOXOLOGY.

O God, our help in ages past, Our hope for years to come,

Our shelter from the stormy blast.

And our eternal home:

Under the shadow of Thy throne.

Still may we dwell secure: Sufficient is Thine arm alone,

And our defence is sure.

Before the hills in order stood, Or earth received her frame, From everlasting Thou art God.

To endless years the same.

The busy tribes of flesh and blood.

With all their cares and

SUNDAY'S SERVICE

Scripture Reading: Matt. 5.1-16 ... Mr. W. Bennett.

Hymn: "LEAD KINDLY LIGHT,"

Lead, kindly Light, amid the encircling gloom,
Lead Thou me on:

The night is dark, and I am far from home;

Lead Thou me on.

Keep Thou my feet; I do not ask to see

The distant scene—one step enough for me.

I was not ever thus, nor prayed that Thou Shouldst lead me on;

I loved to choose and see my path, but now

Lead Thou me on;

I loved the garish day, and, spite of fears,

Pride ruled my will: remember not past years.

So long Thy power hath blessed me, sure it still Will lead me on O'er moor and fen, o'er crag and torrent, till The night is gone, And with the morn those angel faces smile Which I have loved long since, and lost awhile.

Address: Rev. H. Heard.

Anthem: "The Splendours of Thy Glory."

Hymn: "ABIDE WITH ME."

Abide with me! fast falls the eventide:

The darkness deepens; Lord, with me abide!

When other helpers fail, and comforts flee,

Help of the helpless, O abide with me!

Swift to its close ebbs out life's little day;

Earth's joys grow dim, its glories pass away;

Change and decay in all around I see;

O Thou who changest not, abide with me!

I need Thy presence every passing hour;

What but Thy grace can foil the tempter's power?
Who like Thyself my guide and stay can be?

Through cloud and sunshine,
O abide with me!

Reveal Thyself before my closing eyes,

Shine through the gloom, and point me to the skies;

Heaven's morning breaks, and earth's vain shadows flee:

In life and death, O Lord, abide with me!

SCHOOL ACTIVITIES.

Concerts.

From time to time the burgesses of Thebarton have had an opportunity of attending entertainments given by the school children, and getting an inkling of what has been done by way of training. At the close of last year three concerts were given: (1) By the girls, (2) and (3) by the infants and boys combined. The returns were very satisfactory, nearly £150 being raised, and the expenditure connected therewith small. These funds are being utilised for the benefit of the different departments of the school. At the Decoration Society's concerts at the Exhibition Building in 1928 the boys gave an item from the Mikado, "A Wandering Minstrel," which was particularly successful and did Mr. and Mrs. Klose, who trained them, much credit.

Cinema Shows.

Many thanks are due to the Dan. Clifford Company for giving matinee performances for the benefit of the school. By these means a fair amount has been added to the School Funds.

The League of the Empire.

The League is popular with boys and girls alike. Last year, as in previous years, nearly 300 scholars became Junior Members, the most of whom attended the Annual Demonstration at the Exhibition Building on Empire Day, when a very successful function was held. Some of the pupils have correspondents in different parts of the Empire to which they are so proud to belong.

Sports Associations.

Thebarton girls and boys have always been keen contestants in basket-ball, swimming, cricket, and football (both the Australian game and the Soccer game). Both primary and super-primary grades have participated. These games do much to develop the physical stamina of the participators, and though the teams have not always been successful the training the young people have had in self-reliance and self-control has done much for them. Not the end but the means to that end is what counts most. A Soccer pennant was won by the boys, and the name of the school inscribed on the Challenge Shield. The scholars generally are at a disadvantage owing to the congested state of the playground as at present constituted.

Penny Bank.

This institution from the outset has been much in favour, and for long was the leading school in the State for its operations. Of late the dulness of the times, and the dearth of employment, have greatly affected the returns.

Empire Press Delegation.

Lady Violet Astor, a representative of the above, visited the school, and was so impressed with the technical work—dressmaking, millinery, etc., that she applied to the Director of Education for copies of the curriculum. What was being done, and is still being done—for the super-primary girls thus proved very interesting, and made a deep impression on the visitor.

Boy Scouts.

Until some little time ago there was a troop at the school, but the scoutmaster who was transferred has not been replaced. Many of the boys, however, on special occasions, come to school dressed as scouts, showing that they are members of various troops established in the neighbourhood. At times they have formed a guard of honour for distinguished visitors, as have also the girl guides. There is room for further expansion in both. Their aim is: (1) Be prepared; (2) Helping others. These principles put into effect would do away with much of the prevalent unrest.

Girl Guides.

On the 9th June, 1926, a company of Girl Guides was successfully launched at the school following on a meeting at the Town Hall presided over by the Head Mistress, at which Lady Bridges and the Director of Education were present amongst others. Miss Behrens, a Guide Commissioner from England, explained the world-wide character of the movement, its aims and duties. A teacher was appointed to the staff who had already gained experience in Guide work, and she set about the task willingly, enthusiastically and successfully, and the movement was placed on a permanent basis.

The Children's Hospital and Minda.

These institutions have always had active sympathy and support of the parents and children, who fully recognise the deserving character of the work undertaken. As a result both indoor and outdoor patients have been received at the former, while the district has its representative at Minda.

The Tune Changed-history.

A troublesome boy had been stirred up to duty and diligence by a zealous teacher. The mother, greatly perturbed, visited the school, and sought an interview with the teacher. To him she pointed out that her boy was industrious, particularly truthful, and scrupulously honest through his home training. Some few days later the teacher discovered some boys eating in school, and sought an explanation. The good boy had generously supplied the others with sweets. Inquiry discovered that the donor had still nearly two pounds in his possession, which the teacher took care of pending further inquiry. The mother was sent for, and was asked, "Do you ever give your boy any money?" "Yes," said the mother, "sometimes I give him a penny piece, a threepenny piece, or even sixpence." "But do you ever give him large amounts?" said the teacher. She answered, "No." "Well, then," said the teacher, "I have rescued for you nearly two pounds." The mother exclaimed, "O! my sacred aunt, that dreadful boy has stolen the rent."

Mention has been made of the trams to Henley Beach passing the school. In the corridor hangs a photograph of a team of fourteen draught horses attached to a plough for the purpose of preparing a suitable bed for the tram lines when electricity was introduced as the motive power. To-day may be seen a plough drawn by a traction engine tearing up the Beach Road in front of the school for the purpose of making a bituminous track to the beach. This also tends to show the enormous advance made by using a steam engine to replace horses. It further indicates to the pupils of a reflective mind the inventive genius of some men. The different means of tractive power passing the school are ever before the pupils. When the school was opened 50 years ago no one imagined for a moment what the years would bring forth, but the old scholars have seen very many important changes that have made history. Present-day scholars may also confidently expect similar development in the future.

A Few Reminiscences by an Old Scholar of the Thebarton Public School.

When the foundations for the new school were excavated the pupils were marched across one afternoon, and several of us immediately got into the trenches (which to our small minds seemed very deep), and we were having a good run around until threatened and put out by some of the workmen, and when the school was to be opened many of the pupils helped to carry the impedimenta over. Clarke Filsell wheeled the slates, some of the girls carried maps, etc., and I was one of the squad that helped to carry books.

The teachers at this time were Mr. Burnard, Miss Burnard, and Miss Nootnagel.

There were two ponds or dams near the school, one where the Institute now stands, and one across the Beach Road; from there, which were a source of interest to the boys, but an annoyance to the teachers, we had great frog hunts, and the quarry was brought in and liberated in the classrooms. We frequently essayed to cross the ponds on rails purloined from nearby fences, often with disastrous results to our clothes, and were not only punished in school, but on arrival at home. The land on the west side of Taylor's Road was then an open paddock leased by a Mr. Linn, who grew hay and wheat crops thereon. There were regular tracks through, but at the time of seeding Mr. Linn was in the habit of mounting guard with a whip, Later on, when the crop was nearly ready for mowing, it was his custom to stop anyone going through and turning them back, but we smaller boys often saw him first and turned in our tracks, making sure that he would see and chase us, and turn our faces in the way we desired to go. When the hay was in stooks we had great mouse and lizard hunts, and many of these were taken into school. I remember a live lizard and a nest of young mice being found in a teacher's desk, and as no one knew who did it all boys in theclass were kept in.

Not long after the opening of the school a fight between the Thebarton and Hilton lads (between whom there was always a difference) was staged, and we were all invited to participate. It started off with the bigger boys using fists, but soon developed into a stone-throwing battle, and we smaller boys quickly got away.

I remember the late Mr. Thos. Hardy, who was always keen on treeplanting, setting out the Moreton Bay fig trees in the schoolyard. He gave a speech, which I am afraid was not listened to very carefully, and made us promise to see that they were watered during the dry weather.

During the grape-cutting season a lot of boys from the city were employed in the vineyards at Underdale (Norman's, Holbrook's, and Hardy's), and some of the local boys thought they were badly treated because they could not get leave from school to work there, and a good many skirmishes took place between them, not always bloodless battles.

COMMITTEE'S ACTIVITIES

The members of this Committee are very enthusiastic, and take a keen interest and pride in the welfare of this up-to-date Central School. They endeavour to assist the teachers and scholars in every way, not merely confining their attention to the upkeep of the buildings. They, by frequently visiting the school, and attending the many happy little functions, show their interest.

At the end of each year they present two gold medals, one for the dux of the girls' school, and the other for a similar position in the boys'; also about a hundred book prizes are given to the various classes.

The girls' school was assisted by the Committee in their purchase of a piano, and a new linoleum was presented to the Domestic Art School.

By the courtesy of the D. Clifford Theatres, a picture show was held under the auspices of the School Committee last March. The proceeds were devoted to the purchase of a cinema for the use of the whole school.

On April 2nd, 1928, the new building was officially opened by the Hon. M. M. McIntosh (Minister of Education). He was presented with a gold key by the School Committee. The new school is a fine, large and airy building, and Thebarton may well be proud of it.

Empire Day was celebrated on June 1st, and a very impressive ceremony was arranged by this Committee, who were very kindly assisted by a large number of prominent citizens. In August, a meeting of parents interested in the formation of a Parents' Welfare Club was called by the School Committee. The outcome of that meeting was the formation of an enthusiastic club. The Committee hopes, by the co-operation of this Club, to work even more effectively for the good of the school.

The Committee was greatly indebted to the Headmaster (Mr. G. S. Berriman), the Headmistress (Miss Healy), and Infant Mistress (Miss Hamence) for the loyal support and assistance given by them so freely whenever the School Committee required it.

The members of the present School Committee are:—Alderman Jas. L. Leal, J.P. (Chairman), Rev. Edmund Smith (Sec.), T. D. Ackland, Esq., J.P. (Treasurer), Alderman H. S. Hatwell, J.P., Mrs. Lawrence, Mrs. Lawrie (Min Sec), and Mrs. Bridgman.

We owe a debt of gratitude to Mrs. B. S. Christophers, Mr. A. J. Black-well, M.P., and Mr. C. W. Lloyd for their valuable services as past members of his Committee.

Mothers' Club Notes

The Thebarton Infants' School Mothers' Club was formed in February 1923; Miss Inspector Longmore (President of the Mothers' Clubs' Association) performed the opening cere mony and explained its aims and objects, as follows:--

- 1. To deepen the u derstanding of child life by co-operation between parents and teachers, thus making the school and home training co-operative,
 - 2. To learn what is being done in other parts of the world for child welfare.
 - 3. To encourage social intercourse by mothers and teachers meeting each other.

The Club was not formed from a monetary standpoint, mutual help between parents - teacher and child being its sole object.

The first secretary was Mrs, H. Bridgman; Mrs. D. McGarry next occupied this position; the present secretary (Mrs. W. H. Mason) has held the office for the past four years; Mrs. J. Pitcher has be n treasurer since the formation of the Club.

The meeting is held on the 2nd Wednesday of each month, the child's progress is discussed between mother and teacher, and advice is given to help on the little ones work; this intercourse is a great asset, and leads to pleasant friendliness between parent and teacher; great is the disappointment of the little ones if the mothers fail to attend the Club and see them at work.

The mothers spend the afternoon in binding the children's books, repairing bags, etc., and listening to many excellent addresses given by Dr. C. M. Davey, Psycholist, Mrs. Fairweather Mrs, Leal, Mrs A., K. Goode, Dr. Cristy, Mr Bolt (School Dentist). Dr. Puckey. Dr. Mc-Ananey, and many others, the meetings closing with the serving of afternoon tea.

The mothers have found what materials are mostly needed from their chats with the teachers many useful things have been bought such as cupboards, sewing machine, radiator, gramophone (for marching), clock, museum, library, montessori material, etc., which are not provided by the Educational Department. American afternoons, euchre, concerts, etc. are arranged for the purpose of procuring the above.

A very fine working committee, consisting of 14 m mbers, with 2 convenors, help with afternion tea etc.; the average attendance being about 90. The success of the Club is due to the committee and to the indefatigable work of its secretary and treasurer and the very keen interest of the president (Miss E. Hamence), Infant Mistress.

On the Anniversary of the Club, a Birthday Party is held; the fifth was celebrated on March 21st. 1929, am ng the guests being the Mayor and Mayoress, Aldermen and Councillors. Women's Service, School Committee, Head Master, and many prominent business people.

A Rally is he'd once a year in the Masonic Hall, North Terrace, when 32 Clubs are represented, the number of membes totaling over 5,000. The Club is now affiliated with the National Council of Women.

The harmony amongst the members of fhe Club is fine, and helps tremendously in the work of the Club.
