YARTALA STONE BRIDGE ADVENTURE

BEFORE THE 1930'S KARRAWIRRA PARI (RIVER TORRENS) DIDN'T FLOW OUT TO SEA. INSTEAD IT ENDED IN A LARGE SWAMPY AREA KNOWN AS WITUNGKA OR THE REED BEDS. THE CONSTRUCTION OF BREAKOUT CREEK WETLANDS IS AN ATTEMPT TO RESTORE SOME OF THIS SYSTEM.

YARTALA STONE BRIDGE ADVENTURE

HEAD IN THE CLOUDS

Lay on the grass and watch the clouds. Do any of them look like something you recognise?

ON THE ROCKS

Take your shoes off and cross the river using the stepping-stones.

STRIKE A POSE

Watch a bird and then try to pose, walk, or hop along like it does.

LIZARDING WORLD

Spot a Water Skink in the rocks and watch what it does.

KAURNA FACT

Breakout Creek is known to the Kaurna people as The Yartala because of the water that overflows the banks of the river in this area.

Black Swan = Kudlyu • Stepping-stones = Purdi

KAURNA REFLECTION

What wouldn't be here if Kaurna people were living along the river today?

TAKE CARE

When exploring natural spaces please take care and consider the wellbeing of yourself, the environment and the creatures living there.
